RE: Request for endorsement of PIDS-EDCOM2 study's primary data gathering

Dear Secretary Angara:

Greetings!

The Philippines Institute for Development Studies (PIDS), the government's primary socioeconomic policy think tank, is currently conducting studies for the Second Congressional Commission on Education (EDCOM2). As EDCOM2's research arm, PIDS has designated teams for each education subcommittee conducting research on specific topics. One of the key studies under the Teacher Development subcommittee focuses on access to and participation in in-service teacher professional development (TPD) activities and how these can be enhanced to improve teaching quality. As we work towards understanding the existing challenges and identifying opportunities for reform, we are keen to explore how these activities can better serve educators and ultimately contribute to the revitalization of the Philippine education system.

In line with this, we request for your endorsement of our research activities listed below as part of the research methodology required within the scope of the study.

1. Data requests of the following:
 - a. School Form 7: School Personnel Assignment List and Basic Profile
 - b. Teachers' demographic profile such as age, years in service, designation, educational attainment, and TPD activities from the Human Resource Information System (HRIS)
2. Data collection involving key informant interviews (KIIs) with:
 - a. relevant DepEd and National Educators Academy of the Philippines (NEAP) officials who can speak about the current system and procedures of TPD activities across all DepEd regions
 - b. regional directors who can discuss an overview of the TPD activities in their respective jurisdictions
 - c. school division superintendents and district supervisors from each region who can share about unique TPD practices in their respective jurisdictions (Divisions or districts with similar activities will only be requested to have one representative.)
 - d. school heads from each region who can describe their school-based TPD activities (Schools with similar activities will only be requested to have one representative.)
3. Focus group discussions (FGDs) with selected elementary and secondary teacher with a license to teach, are currently teaching, and have participated in at least one TPD activity, who can speak about their access to TPD activities as well as the factors and motivators they have in joining said activities

The data collection period will be from September 15 to November 15, 2024. For inquiries, you may reach out to Ms. Valerie Lim at ylim@pids.gov.ph / (02) 8877-4073.
